OBITUARY.

The Marquis de Larechejacquelin. Henry du Vergier, Marquis de Larochejacque Pres, a Senator of the French Empire, died at the viliage of Pecq, in the department of the Seine-et-thee, on January 7. He descended from a family noted for its legitimist convictions, his mother being the heroine of the Vendee, and his picle, Henry Larochejacquelin, the chief of the Vendean war against the first French republic. He was born in 1804, and was created a Peer of France at the early age of cieven, but had not taken his seat in the Upper House when the July revolution of 1830 broke out. Unwilling to serve the July dynasty in any capacity, he resigned his peerage. In 1842 he was elected to the Chamber of the Deputies, where he was the most violent member of was elected to the Chamber of the Deputies, where he was the most violent member of the Legitmist opposition in his attacks upon the Government. He disagreed, however, with the bulk of his party and the Count of Chambord, in demanding a direct appeal to the popular vote. This estrangement grew wider after the proclamation of the republic and the establishment of the empire, which Larochejacquelin accepted as the expression of the popular vote though, as far as his personal predilecvote, though, as far as his personal predilec-tions were concerned, he pretended to remain a Legitimist. In 1852 he was named by the Emperor a Senator, and the acceptance of this position by him created a great sensation among the Legitimists. He took a frequent, though not prominent part in the debates of the Senate, and was, in particular, conspicuous for his un-compromising defense of the Temporal Powers.

Miss Millie Cavendish. The death record of the week contains the name of Miss Millie Cavendish. This young actress made her first appearance in the United States, on the occasion of the first performance of The Black Crook, at Niblo's Garden. Her archness and vivacity as an actress made a very pleasing impression at that time, and since then she had steadily grown in popular favor. Her death occurred on the 23d instant, and her remains were yesterday buried at Greenwood Cemetery.—N. Y. Tribune.

Extraordinary Longevity. From the Richmond Examiner.

Aunt Milly, a colored woman, formerly belonging to Captain James M. Harris, residing mear Rockfish Gap, in Nelson county, Va., died at the residence of that gentleman on the 7th instant, in the 136th year of her age. She was born in the year 1731, in the beginning of the reign of George II. She was a contemporary of Pope, Swift, and Bolingbroke, though probably she never heard of them. A colored woman she never heard of them. A colored woman, samed Caroline James, died in Richmond on Tuesday, at the advanced age of 130 years. She was married but once, and was the mother of thirty-five children. She was a slave until the evacuation of Richmond, and was the property at that time of Mr. D. Benjamin Pilcher.

The Famous Preacher of Paris. The Pail Mail Gazete has the following sketch c: Father Hyacinthe, the famous preacher at Notre Dame, in Paris:-Unprepossessing in appearance, Pere Hyaciathe, who has been preaching the advent ser-mons at Notre Dame, is one of the most interest-Louis Veuiliot and 'Les Odeurs de Paris,' and for the last month has been crying from the altar. 'Love! idelity! marriage! union of the sexes! increase and multiply!' These are the texts from which Charles Loyson, Pere Hyacinthe, has preached to the people whom he evidently considers in their decadence, but to whom, in his loye for his country, he teels bound to speak love for his country, he feels bound to speak out frankly and boldly. Three years ago, when Pere Hyaeinthe for the first time mounted the sulpit of Notre Dame, the event was looked upon as one of political importance in conse-quence of the doctrines he was known to pro-fess. It was the time when the ultramontanes were engaged in attacking what they called 'modern society' with redoubled vigor, and every morning at Paris, Berlin, and Vienna the journais of that party were filled with violent invectives against 'liberal ideas.' It was about this time that the celebrated Syllaous was launched, in spite of the remonstrances of Monseigneur Dupanloup, Bishop of Orleans, and the liberal party was driven from pulpit and press. "It was, therefore, regarded as a courageous act on the part of the Archbishop of Paris when, with a tact and moderation (which have not forsaken him), in answer to the reactionists he established the conferences of Notra Dame, and called Pere Hyacinthe, who was young, of liberal tendencies, bold and eloquent, to fill what we may term the chair of Noire Dame. The preacher soon became a kind of power in the State; it became impossible for the metro-politan church to accommodate all those who flocked to hear, not the shibboleth of a sect, but a manly exposition of the harmony between the Christian Gospel and the liberal views of the present time. The first year of his conferences was employed in demonstrating, in a purely philosophical manner, not the existence, but the personality of God, always present in the world and interwoven with its history. The second year was devoted to the glorification of the human conscience enlightened by reason and faith, and attacks upon what was termed in the last century 'independent morality.' This year Pere Hyacinthe has been engaged in preaching on domestic happiness and singing the praises of love, 'the third person of the human trinity.'

Pere Hyacinthe was aware that he could not treat such a subject without provoking the laughter of the skeptics, who would be ready to hold up a thousand examples of how love was daily profaned; but on this subject he said. "Thank God, my heart has remained pure and my reason healthy; and I, preacher of the Evangel, a doctor of reason and the human heart, have the right, and look upon it as a duty to name love. And the Carmelite monk preached with as much unction on this subject as if he had been an English rector with a comfortable parsonage and a thrifty and fruitful

A Singular Sect in India.

The Khojahs of Western India were converted from Hindooism by a Mohammedan missionary about four hundred years ago; but being very illiterate, without schools, priests, or mosques. and retaining most of their Hindoo customs and usages, they have grown up with very cloudy notions of what their religious tenets really are. The principal object of their veneration is a Persian nobleman nambed Aga Khan, who has taken up his abode in India during the last twenty-five years, and who is maintained by voluntary contributions from the faithful. amounting to about £10,000 per annum, which he is stated to spend principally in horse-racing So great is the superstitious reverence with which this individual is regarded, that it appears at meetings of the caste a most exciting scramble ensues for some leaves of betel on which he has been graciously pleased to spit. These Khojahs, however, are getting rich; and some of them, looking out for a religion with a purer faith, have set up as orthodox Mussulmen. This has led to disputes about the caste pro-perty, which has been brought before a cour; but unfortunately for the cause of reform, Sir Joseph Arnoult has pronounced that Aga Khan is entitled to full control.

Adah Isaacs Menken.

The Paris Times of the 12th instant states that on the Saturday previous an accident occurred at the Gaiete Theatre in that city to Miss Adah Isaacs Menken, during the performance of the Pirates de la Savane. The horse on which Miss Menken was bound broke down, and fell at the commencement of the ascent. Of course she could not make the slightest movement, and for some moments her life was in danger. The cur-tain was quickly lowered, and in a few minutes the piece was resumed, and this time the "ascen-sion perillense" was successfully executed. She is said to be having a great success.

—A person by the name of Hart, belonging to Taunton, Massachusetts, and who left there in a sleigh on Wednesday afternoon last week, is still sleigh on Wednesday afternoon last week, is still missing. On Friday those searching for him found a horse and sleigh on the Dighton road, the horse frozen to death. In a house near by they discovered a man and boy, who were the occupants of the sleigh, and who barely escaped death from sold.

FOURTH EDITION

FROM WASHINGTON THIS AFTERNOON.

[SPECIAL DESPATCHES TO EVENING TELEGRAPH.] WASHINGTON, January 26.

Georgetown Politics. Enough colored voters have been registered in Georgetown to show that they will hold the balance of power in the municipal election.

The Gold Bill. The Senate Finance Committee have taken no formal schon on the Gold bill, but the members of the Committee express the epinion that there is nothing objectionable in it, and they will undoubtedly report invorably.

Colorado and Nebraska. The vetoes of the Colorado and Nebraska bills are not expected now before Monday. A strong effort is being made by parties interested to induce the Pre-sident to sign the bills or to allow them to become laws without his signature.

Protection. The temper of the House, so far as ascertained, is to-pass a fariff bill of considerably higher rates than either the Wells bill or the Senate bill.

William B. Astor, or New York, is in the House

The Boston Anti-Slavery Society.

Boston, January 26.—At the evening session of the Anti-Slavery Seciety last night, Mr Phillips presented the following resolutions, which were manimously Anti-blavory society last night. Mr Phillips presented the following resolutions, which were unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That the safety and henor of the nation demand three things—the removal of the President, the setting aside of the present so called State Governments in the South, and the remodelling of the Supreme Coart; and without this we see little or no hope of the continued success of the Union party.

Resolved, That no Rebel territory should be recognized as States until the Federal Constitution itself guarantees to every loyal citizen within the Union the ballot and education and to the negro land besides.

Resolved, That the vindication and protection of the nearce, said the restoration of his rights, demand the same measures, and are inseparably bound up with their success; that in the name of national satety, honor, justice and the pergoes' rights, we demand of Congress that it so forward until the national structure rests on lastice and ilberty for its corner-stone.

MAN SHOT IN TWENTY-SEVENTH WARD—Horge Killed and Sleigh Smashed.—This morning a young man named Peter McLaughim was arrested by the Saxteenth District Police, on the charge of having been one of the parties engaged in an attack on a sleighing party. He was taken to the Mayor's office, and after an examination by Mayor McMichael, was locked up for a hearing.

On Thorsday evening, Messes, A. N. Morton and H. M. Day went out sleighing. They drove down the Darby road, and stopped at Elley's tayern. Upon leaving the tayern they were met by three rough-looking fellows, who commenced abusing them. The men were told to go away. One drow a pistol and fired. The ball passed through the hand of Mr. Day, and struck the horse. The animal became frightened, and ran off.

The sleigh was upset, and Messes. Day and Morton were thrown out. The horse, which was valued at $800, was rendered worthless. The sleigh was broken to pieces. While Messes. Day and Morton were scrambling up out of the snow, the three approached, and were about to commit another assant but were driven away by the neighbors. Mr. Day's wound is serious. Erysipelas set in, and he is now considered in a critical condition.

This Dividend may be used as CASH IN PAYMENT OF THE NEXT ANNUAL PREMIUM, and on every succeeding Premium there will be a CASH DIVIDEND, reducing the payments each year until they cease, when NO MORE PAYMENTS WILL BE REQUIRED, BUT THE ANNUAL DIVIDENDS CONTINUE DURING LIFE, MAKING THE POLICY A SOURCE OF INCOME. The rates for this kind of Policy (Life) ARE AS LOW AS OTHER FIRST-CLASS COMPA-NIES, thereby giving the Assured the LOWEST RATE at which insurance can be procured, with all the advantages of a "PAID-UP" or NON-FORFEITURE POLICY, for which some other Companies charge double

It should be observed that most other Companies withhold the payment of their Dividends UNTIL FOUR OR FIVE FULL ANNUAL PRE-MIUMS ARE PAID, although professing to DECLARE DIVIDENDS ANNUALLY.

To persons proposing to ASSURE THEIR LIVES, we invite investigatien before taking out Policies elsewhere, as the great advantages offered the INSURED BY THIS SOCIETY are believed to be unequalled.
